Native Wildflower and Grass Seed Mix
To be spread over grassed areas

A mixture of native wildflowers and grasses produced from species-rich meadows on Waun Las National Nature Reserve at the National Botanic Garden of Wales.

Sow in autumn, outdoors on bare ground or into existing lawn, scratching the surface of the soil first. Allow plants to flower and set seed before cutting back.

Seed mix includes:
Meadow Buttercup - Ranunculus acris
Great Burnet - Sanguisorba officinalis
Black Knapweed - Centaurea nigra
Cat's ear - Hypochaeris radicata yellow rattle - Rhinanthus minor
Eyebright - Euphrasia
