

Key
	Existing mature trees and hedges
	Security fencing
	DNO
	Customer cabin
	Biodiversity area
	PV module block
	Wildflower meadow
	Existing overhead pylons
	Marsh
	Marshy grassland
Project
Bryngolwg Solar
Drawing number
TRP1081_3
Drawing title
Landscape and ecology mitigations and enhancements plan
Date
March 2022
Scale
Not to scale
Size
A4
Client
RE Projects Development Limited

Detailed view 1

All existing hedgerows and woodland will be retained and buffer zones for biodiversity will be managed to conserve the habitat of the Marsh Fritillary Butterfly

Land under and around the solar panels will be used for grazing and maintenance of purple moore grass, to increase biodiversity and protect local ecological habitats

- Key
- Existing mature trees and hedges
 - Security fencing
 - DNO
 - Customer cabin
 - Biodiversity area
 - PV module block
 - Wildflower meadow
 - Existing overhead pylons
 - Marsh
 - Marshy grassland

Project
Bryngolwg Solar

Drawing number
TRP1081_3

Drawing title
Landscape and ecology mitigations and enhancements plan

Date
March 2022

Scale
Not to scale

Size
A4

Client
RE Projects Development Limited

Detailed view 2

10 metre distance
between existing hedge and solar
panel to be managed
for biodiversity

Retention and
planting of hedges
to provide visual screening and
retaining habitat
connectivity
across the site

Access to site taken from farm access
and public highway

Key

-  Existing mature trees and hedges
-  Security fencing
-  DNO
-  Customer cabin
-  Biodiversity area
-  PV module block
-  Wildflower meadow
-  Existing overhead pylons
-  Marsh
-  Marshy grassland

Project

Bryngolwg Solar

Drawing number

TRP1081_3

Drawing title

Landscape and ecology mitigations and
enhancements plan

Date

March 2022

Scale

Not to scale

Size

A4

Client

RE Projects
Development Limited